Choice Poetry.

A lady friend, for whom we have a sincere regard, requests that we will re-publish the following exquisite lines, which were written long since, on a most interesting subject:

"I LOVE YOU."

I love you! 'Tis the simplest way
The fitting word to call.
You'd never guess how well:
You are my comfort and my light,
My very life you seem;
I think of you all day—all night
"Tis but of you I dream.

There's pleasure in the lightest word
That you can speak to me;
My soul is like the Eolian chord,
And vibrates still to thee.
I never read the love song yet,
So thrilling, fond, or true,
But in my own heart I have met
Some kinder thought for you.

I bless the shadows on your face,
The light upon your hair;
I like for hours to sit and trace
The passing changes there;
I love to hear your voice's tone,
Although I should not say
A single word to dream upon,
When that has died away.

Oh, you are kindly as the beam
That warms wherever it plays,
And you are gentle as a dream
Of happy future days:
And you are strong to do the right,
And swift the wrong to flee;
And if you were not half so bright,
You'd be all the world to me.

Miscellaneous.

A lady friend, who has a just conception of the practical elements of life, desires that the following may be reproduced. It is a lesson which may be well studied by every man and woman in the community:

Never Despair.

"While there's life there's hope," is an old adage; therefore, never despair. The prospect may be gloomy, the sky clouded, the face of fortune averted, yet never despair. The worst circumstances have been surmounted, the greatest perils passed, by enduring energy and faith—faith in the future, that there must or might come a brighter turn of destiny's wheel. It is always darkest just before day-dawn; it is never a cloud but there is light behind it; and never a thunderbolt on a tempest but the atmosphere is made purer thereby. So with our lives; overclouded and stormy they may be, but it is either our callousness or our despondency, or it is the work of a Providence wiser than we, as we shall see if we will only buffet the gale out. Despair is an impulse; it is a token of our superiority to the brutes that perish, that we listen to reason, and reason concedes life, in all its moods, with duty. Duty calls us to struggle and to submit to the order of Providence, and yet struggle to achieve the highest thought that is in us. Life is given us not to be cut short or laid down at our pleasure. Virtue is born of doing and of bearing, and heroism oftenest achieves through suffering. Heroes were cheap if victory were fortuitous and never-failing; but our human record marks him the greatest hero who could turn defeat to victory. Fabius conquered by retreating—Washington was not disconcerted because he could not always "forward march." A less wise and heroic man would have halted where he advanced, fallen back where he stood firm, and despaired where he gathered fresh hope. In whatever strait, let us do whatever manhood and duty bid and we shall conquer—aye, conquer, even though we fall. Lawrence felt the true inspiration when he sent forth his death cry, "Don't give up the ship!"

How to be Miserable.

Sit by the window and look over the way to your neighbor's excellent mansion which he recently built and paid for, and sigh out, "O that I were a rich man!" Get angry with your neighbor and think you have no friend in the world. Shed a tear or two, and take a walk in the burial ground, continually saying to yourself, "When shall I be buried here?" Sign a note for a friend, and never forget your kindness, and every hour in the day whisper to yourself, "I wonder if he will ever pay the note."

Think everybody means to cheat you. Closely examine every bill you take, and doubt its being genuine till you have put the owner to a great deal of trouble. Believe every ninepence passed on you is but a sixpence crossed, and express your doubts about getting rid of it if you should venture to take it.

Put confidence in nobody, and believe every man you trade with to be a rogue. Never accommodate if you can possibly help it. Never visit the sick or afflicted, and never give a farthing to assist the poor.

Buy as cheap as you can, and screw down to the lowest mill. Grind the faces and hearts of the unfortunate.

Brood over your misfortune, your lack of talents, and believe that no distant day you will come to want. Let the work-house be ever in your mind, with all the horrors of distress and poverty.

Follow those recipes strictly, and you will be miserable to your heart's content; if we may so speak—sick at heart and at variance with all the world. Nothing will cheer or encourage you, nothing throw a gleam of sunshine or a ray of warmth into your heart.

Riches hide vice, and poverty conceals virtue.

Too Loud Talk Before Marriage.

A London Journal relates the following as of actual occurrence: "Some time since the salons of Paris were entertained by a matrimonial adventure, the hero of which was the son of one of the wealthiest bankers. The gentleman was engaged to marry a young lady of high rank, and everything was prepared. The bridegroom had sent in the corbelle, which was extremely rich, the diamonds alone being worth over one hundred thousand francs. Wishing to enjoy the gratification of his bride, he followed closely on the heels of his present, and finding no one in the parlor, ensconced himself behind the curtain. Presently a whole bevy of girls fluttered into the room, and all began talking at once: 'Oh! did you ever see such a beautiful corbelle? Louise is lucky—what a gentlemanly husband she will have!' 'She ought to be happy, to be sure; but do you know what she told me just now?—why, that she would rather have the corbelle without the gentleman who gave it.' 'It can't be; she never said so.' 'She certainly did; and there she is—ask her yourself.' Louise, didn't you tell me you would rather have the corbelle alone without Mr.——?' 'Yes I say so; but that's between ourselves.' 'Much obliged to you, Mademoiselle,' said Mr.——, coming forward; 'you shall not have either.' So saying, he coolly put the splendid present under his arm and walked off, leaving the ladies in an embarrassment 'easier conceived than expressed.'"

How to Deal with Bloodhounds.

A black man tells how to deal with bloodhounds. He had been chased himself:

"He told us when the dogs followed us in the cane-brake, in order to prevent them from keeping the trail, we should travel as much as possible in the water; but if we should be closely pursued, to leave the cane-brake and take to the Ouzumgee river. He assured us that the dogs were fearful of the alligators with which the river abounded, and that the slaves were taught that the alligators would destroy only negroes and dogs. He didn't believe it himself, although his master thought he did. He added:

"If den hounds get close on to you, why you jist git a long pole and hop about twenty feet if you kin. You do dis four or five times, and whenever you light, why jist put some pepper in the holes what you heels make, and when the hounds come dey lose dar scent, and den dey goes a sniffin' and a sniffin' round, and brenby snuffles up dat 'ar pepper into dar nostrils, and den dey'll git cheet! cheet! and dat'll be de last den dogs can do dat day."

"This piece of information, and the manner in which it was conveyed, accompanied as it was by violent gyrations of the body, and an exact imitation of a dog sneezing, was very amusing."

A Rural Gentleman MAKES A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

A gentleman came to Hartford to attend a convention which met in a public hall. He reached the building in which the hall is situated, and found it difficult to discover the meeting, being puzzled by the winding stairs. He opened several doors on his way up, without getting the right one. Now it so happens that a suit of rooms in the building is occupied by a man and his wife. The wife was in her bed-room, which leads from the hall-way, taking a bath, and was therefore not in proper dress to receive a visitor in her natural Eve costume, when the rural gentleman opened the door to her room, which she neglected to lock. He had got within the doorway before the lady discovered him and he was astonished that he moved neither one way nor the other. She employed the time prettily lively in gathering up some articles of apparel about her person.

All of a sudden the wondering mortal at the door burst out: "Madam, I'm trying to find the convention in—Halt, but I judge from appearances this isn't the place." She thought so too.

A planter buying woods in Memphis made his order in this way: "Firstly, give me a barrel of whiskey, then a barrel of flour, then ten hams, then fifty pounds of pork and another barrel of whiskey, then some calico, then some more pork and another barrel of flour. 'Wall,' he continued, 'how much does this leave?' The merchant replied. Here the planter seemed to be confounded. After thinking for a few moments, during which time he vigorously scratched his head with both hands, he suddenly brightened up as if he had come into possession of a new idea, and replied, 'wall, give me the balance in whiskey.'"

"We all of us should make a sacrament," said Mrs. Partridge, solemnly, as she heard that a neighbor's son had been drafted; "if I had a hundred sons, I should be willing that every one of 'em should be exempt."

"We won't indulge in such horrid anticipations," as the henpecked husband said when the parson told him he would be joined to his wife in another world, never more to be separated from her. "Parson, I hope you will not mention that unpleasant circumstance again," said he.

"But, going in four-wheel cab! I am so afraid of small pox!" Cabbie—"You've no call to be afraid of my cab, man, for I've had the hind wheels vaccinated, and it took beautiful!"

"O! who is great in defeat is half a conqueror."

Better have rough hands than dyspepsia.

Hints to Mothers—Speak Low.

I know some houses, well built and handsomely furnished, where it is not pleasant to be even a visitor. Sharp, angry tones resound through them from morning till night, and the disease is as contagious as measles, and much more to be dreaded in a household. The children catch it and it lasts for life, an incurable disease. A friend has such a neighbor within hearing of her house when doors and windows are open, and even Poll Parrot has caught the tune, and delights in screaming and scolding, until she has been sent into the country to improve her habits. Children catch cross tones quicker than parrot, and it is a much more mischievous habit. Where mothers set the example you will scarcely hear a pleasant word among the children in their plays with each other. Yet the discipline in such a family always weak and irregular. The children expect just so much scolding before they do anything else, and while many a house where the low, firm tone of the mother, or a decided look of her steady eye is law, never think of disobedience either in or out of her sight.

Oh, mothers, it is with a great deal to cultivate that "excellent thing in a woman," a low sweet voice. If you are ever so much tried by the mischievous or willful pranks of the little ones, speak low. It will be a great help to you to even try to be patient and cheerful, if you cannot wholly succeed. Anger makes you wretched, and your children also. Impatient, angry tones never did the heart good, but plenty of evil. Read what Solomon says of them, and remember he wrote with an inspired pen. You cannot have the excuse for them that they lighten your burdens any—they make them only ten times heavier. For your own and your children's sake, learn to speak low. They will remember that tone when your head is under the willows. So, too, would they remember a harsh and angry voice. Which legacy will you leave to your children?—New York Chronicle.

CAPTURE OF GUERRILLAS.—A cavalry detachment, under command of Major Cole, last week scoured the vicinity of Leesburg, in pursuit of the guerrillas under Nick Dorsey, who captured three sutlers' teams on the 11th instant, near Hyattstown. On Saturday they fell in with a gang of these outlaws in the mountain west of Leesburg, and after a sharp fight succeeded in killing two and capturing eleven, besides some 26 horses, whose riders escaped in the bush. Among the prisoners were Nick Dorsey himself, John O. Brown, (formerly a printer in the office of the Frederick Herald), Brown's brother, who is a rebel lieutenant, and several others from Frederick county. They were sent to Fort Mifflin.

A WEDDING.—The N. Y. correspondent of the Indyger, says a fashionable wedding came off at the Astor House, in a quiet way, a day or two ago. The bridegroom was Mons. Charles Carey, Chancellor of State, of Louisiana, Switzerland, and the bride Miss Annie Taylor, of Cedarcroft, Chester county, Pa., a sister of Bayard Taylor, Esq.

HISTORICAL PARALLELS.—Washington, in the darkest days of the revolution remarked, "I am under more apprehension on account of our own dissensions, than the effort of the enemy." And again, "animosity in our council, disinterestedness in our pursuit, and steady perseverance in our national duty, are the only means to avoid misfortunes. If they were upon us after these, we shall have the consolation of knowing that we have done our best. The rest is with God." How applicable are these words of wisdom to the present times.

YOUNG MRS. MALAPROP.—A gentleman of this city recently met a married couple who had returned from a tour abroad, and were about going to housekeeping. The wife, whose upper story was poorly furnished, was eloquent in the description of their purchases abroad, and among other things, said: "Husband has bought a lot of stationery to put in the nick!"—N. Y. Idler.

NEXT GENERATION TO BE SHORT.—It is the effect of war on human stature. Dr. Bell says: "That if the cause of war be long established on a nation, the physical energies of the people may suffer by the loss of the first population to such a degree that the succeeding generation will fall short of its former standard stature, as was the case with the French youth drafted for the army after the general peace. Thus, in 1862, out of 1,053,425 young men drafted to serve in the army, 330,213 were sent back because they fell short of even the diminutive stature of four feet ten inches French."

Paddy was summoned to Court for refusing to pay a doctor's bill. Judge:—"Why do you refuse to pay?" Paddy:—"What for, should I pay? Sure, did he ever give me anything but some emetics, and the niver a one could I keep in my

Consecration of the Soldiers' National Cemetery.

We are informed by DAVID WILLS, Esq., agent for Governor Curtin, for the arrangement of the Soldiers' Cemetery at this place, that the grounds will be consecrated and set apart to this sacred purpose, on Thursday the 19th of November next, by imposing ceremonies suitable to the occasion.

Hon. EDWARD EVERETT has been invited to deliver the Oration, on this occasion, and has accepted the invitation. His acknowledged and unselfish patriotism, and his years of toil to rescue the grave of Washington from neglect and decay, and make it the common property of the Union, render him one of the fittest men in the nation for this portion of these ceremonies. The time for these exercises has been delayed longer than was originally intended, in order to secure the services of Mr. Everett, whose engagements prevent him from attending at an earlier day.

Col. William Sanders, the Government Rural Architect at Washington, is here now plotting and laying out the grounds.

We are requested to announce, that the Lord's Supper will be dispensed at Marsh Creek Presby. Church, (Rev. Mr. Warner's,) on next Sabbath. Preparatory exercises commence on Friday, at 10½ A. M.

The celebrated Orator, Miss ANNA M. DICKENSON, who has done such good work in the Eastern States, is now addressing the citizens of Pennsylvania at various points, attracting great crowds. She has an appointment for Gettysburg on Friday next, the 9th inst. She will have a large audience, no doubt.

We are requested to say that Miss SARAH VAN PATTEN has changed her terms of tuition in Music, from $10 to $8 per quarter.

Shawl Lost.
On the night of the Entertainment at the General Hospital, a young lady lost a Crimson Cape Shawl. The person who found the same, will, on leaving the same at the office of the Sentinel, be suitably rewarded.

The Counties of Adams and York have been united in one Military District, under command of Brig. Gen. O. S. FRANK, who has his headquarters at this place.

The cavalry companies of Captains BELL and HOLLINGER left for Chambersburg on Saturday morning to join the Regiment. We have just heard they returned yesterday—but have no particulars.

An infantry company from Maryland arrived here last week, to take the place of the six months' Pennsylvanians who have been doing guard duty at the General Hospital.

Cor. Curtin, notwithstanding the war, has paid nearly a million dollars of our State debt. Justice Woodward, by assuming the rebel debt, would more than double our present taxes. This fact, now a chapter in the history of our glorious and just administration as ever directed the official affairs of the State of Pennsylvania, annoys our copperhead opponents exceedingly. And yet Gov. Curtin, by his wise policy of his administration—by his thrift and economy—by the statesmanship with which he has guided the State Government, has enabled the proper agents of the Commonwealth to reduce the State debt nearly a million of dollars. The fact is on record, and the result is too immense to be effected by loco-foco lying.

The President has issued a Proclamation appointing the last Thursday of November as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer. It is a very beautiful document, and we shall give it next week.

There are three fathers in East Nottingham township, Chester county, Pa., who have fourteen sons in the Union army.

The news from the Army of the Cumberland is of the most satisfactory character. The army has been heavily reinforced, and Gen. Rosecrans is expected to resume offensive operations promptly. His lines of communication are unbroken and every thing is going on well. There has been a change of commanders in some of the corps of the army. Gen. Granger, who commanded the reserves in the fight at Chickamauga, and who nobly supported the gallant Thomas, and Gen. Pope are expected to supersede Gens. McCook and Crittenden, who have been relieved.

A Bold Scamp.

On Friday last, in coming into my residence during the rain, I hung my Umbrella on the bell knob, with the view of draining it. A few minutes afterwards, a stranger passing, walked deliberately up to the door, in sight of some members of my family, and took the umbrella; and before any one could get out, he was off, and out of sight with his prize. I will give $5 reward for his discovery. The umbrella was a very large one, with yellow handle curved.

ROBERT G. HARPER.

We wish every reader of the Sentinel would not overlook two thrilling articles on our first page to-day—one headed "A Page of Impartial History," and "Thrilling Sketch." They tell a tale of Gov. CURTIN, which cannot fail to arouse every Pennsylvanian's feeling. We feel proud of our patriotic Governor—we hope every true Pennsylvanian feels with us.

We do hope all true friends of the Union in Adams county, let their former party feelings be what they may, will feel it their duty not only to vote on Tuesday next, for the noble and patriotic Governor, ANDREW G. CURTIN, who has done so much to sustain the honor and glory of Pennsylvania and the Union, but will use every influence in their power to rally every patriot around the men on the County Ticket, whose feelings and action are identified with the great interests at stake, crushing the Rebellion, and conquering an honorable peace.

We need not particularize the candidates on our Ticket—they are all known, as worthy and well qualified. The candidate for the Legislature, who heads the County Ticket, has shown his patriotism in the field, and will get a vote worthy of his high character. For the others we need not ask support—they will all make their mark.

FRANCIS J. GRUND, a distinguished writer and scholar, and recently an Editor of the Aye, at Philadelphia, left the Woodward party, and made a powerful speech before the Union League of Philadelphia, on Monday night, which was received with unbounded applause. He had retired to bed, when a crowd appeared with yells before his residence, on their way to serenade Gen. McClellan and Mr. Woodward, and he became frightened, dressed himself, and ran in haste to the police station, where he fell exhausted, and in ten minutes expired, from an attack of apoplexy.

An English officer who was the guest of General LOUGHEED of the rebel army while that army was in Pennsylvania, has written for Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine a diary of "The battle of Gettysburg and the campaign in Pennsylvania." Fellow-citizens, mark his words about those of you whom these wicked partisan leaders have caused to entertain mistaken motives of political duty, and in complaint against the Government. "They are the most ungrateful people I ever saw, and openly state that they don't care which side wins provided they are left alone. They abuse Lincoln tremendously." Now, if at the coming election you will vote with HUGHES, INGERSOLL, BUCHANAN, BLACK, GLOSS, BRENNER & Co., who are perpetually abusing the Government; if you will vote for WOODWARD and LOWMEYER, and against CURTIN and AGNEW, then, by the impartial verdict of the men of other nations, you will, by your own deliberate act, put yourselves into the list of "the most ungrateful people" of the earth. To do this is no part of true Democracy. True Democracy is the patent of lofty patriotism, that patriotism which knows no party but that of the country, in the hour of danger. Vice of Southern and central Pennsylvania, forget not that you are now making history by your voices and votes—history in which your children will glory, or else their ears will tingle and their cheeks blush with shame at its recital. The hosts of the true and loyal men of other parts of the State are marshaling for the victory of truth, liberty and Union. Their voices, like the roar of ocean floods and Allegheny mountain torrents, are shouting together, "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable." They shed no crocodile tears over the dead heroes of the Union. They intend to prove by their votes for CURTIN, the soldiers' friend, and AGNEW, the patriotic Judge, that the tears they shed are those of manly, honest sorrow for the fallen martyrs of the law. God forbid that you whose hearts have rankled beneath the heel of the haughty oppressor, should, in this time of destiny, fall out from the ranks of your fellow freemen of the Northern, Eastern, and Western sections of the Commonwealth, who are marching grandly along, keeping step to the music of the Union. Come up to the polls on the 13th of October in throngs thousands, and as you proudly deposit your votes for CURTIN and AGNEW, to those around you, "We vote to-day, not for party but for our whole country—the Union forever."

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—Gen. Hooker and staff arrived at the Barnett House here last evening, and the General was serenaded. The General, in a few remarks, said that he was going to speak to the rebellion through the thunder tones of artillery and musketry. General Butterfield also said that they were going to the front to fight traitors, and they wanted all loyal citizens to take care of traitors in the rear of the army.

The news from the Army of the Cumberland is of the most satisfactory character. The army has been heavily reinforced, and Gen. Rosecrans is expected to resume offensive operations promptly. His lines of communication are unbroken and every thing is going on well. There has been a change of commanders in some of the corps of the army. Gen. Granger, who commanded the reserves in the fight at Chickamauga, and who nobly supported the gallant Thomas, and Gen. Pope are expected to supersede Gens. McCook and Crittenden, who have been relieved.

To the Loyal Voters of Adams County.

Having been nominated as a candidate for Assembly by a Convention, representing the Union voters of Adams county, without distinction of party; and having with much reluctance yielded my own personal inclinations to the urgent representations of friends in both political parties, as far as to accept the nomination; I have thought it due to you, frankly to announce my position. I take this means of doing so, as my engagements are such that I could not canvass the County as a candidate, even if I desired, and shall not therefore be able to see voters personally before the election.

Upon the breaking out of the present Rebellion in the Spring of 1861, with others of my fellow citizens of this County, I volunteered my services to assist in putting down that Rebellion, and have been in active military service from that time until a few weeks ago, when I was mustered out with the regiment from this County, which I had the honor to command. In entering the service I expected to remain there, if my life were spared, until the Rebellion was effectually crushed and the Union restored. Last Fall, while on duty in Western Virginia, I was, unexpectedly and without any solicitation on my part, unanimously elected Colonel of the 165th. A sense of duty to my County induced me, to accept the position thus tendered me, and the War Department transferred me from the 87th to the 165th. I do not know how soon my services may again be needed in the field. When the contingency arises I will cheerfully meet it.

My nomination for Assembly was as unsolicited as was my promotion to the command of the 165th. Not only was it unsolicited; but, if I had consulted my own feelings, I should have promptly declined it. In entering the military service, believing it to be the duty of every good citizen to lay aside partisan feeling and unite in a common effort to crush the conspirators who were seeking to serve the Union and destroy the Government, I determined to know no party until the Rebellion should be put down. I leave it to the gallant men who served with me for more than two years in the field, to witness with what fidelity that pledge has thus far been fulfilled. It is my purpose to maintain that pledge so long as there is a common enemy to fight. He who honestly stands by the Government in its efforts to preserve the Republic, and gives to the soldiers in the field a cordial and earnest support, is my friend and brother. I shall know no other. Hence I desire it to be distinctly understood that, if elected as your Representative in the State Legislature, I shall regard it my first and highest duty to give an earnest hearty support to the Government and our gallant Army in the contest now waging, and which is to determine whether our glorious Union shall live or die. We may honestly differ as to the measures and policy of the National Administration in carrying on the war. But it will be time enough to attend to these matters after we have crushed the Rebellion, restored the Union and saved the Republic. That accomplished, it will be time enough to hold all parties concerned, to a rigid responsibility for waste of means or abuse of power. While the enemy confronts us and threatens destruction to all that, as freemen, we hold dear and sacred, let us unite in a common effort to crush him.

With this brief statement of my position and purposes, I have the honor to subscribe myself
Your fellow-citizen,
C. H. BUEHLER.

Gettysburg, Pa., October 6, 1863.

The most promising element in the present campaign is the readiness and even the eagerness, with which active and prominent Democrats assist the cause of the Union. There is not a county in Pennsylvania in which men heretofore known as leading Democrats have not openly taken ground in favor of Governor Curtin and a vigorous prosecution of the war. If it would not consume too much of our valuable space, we could give columns of the names of Democrats long attached to that party, and now voluntarily enlisted among the friends of the Union, and the friends of the Union candidate for Governor. This is especially true of Philadelphia, in every Ward of which numbers of old Democrats are now arrayed on the side of the Union candidate for Governor. It would be remarkable if it were otherwise. The truth is involved in this great struggle for the preservation of the Government, the inconsistency and falsehood of the new leaders of the Democratic party, the fact that the defeat of CURTIN would be hailed by the rebel armies as their triumph, and would be accepted by our foreign enemies as an evidence that the people of Pennsylvania were ready to close this conflict by the basest concessions, these are the arguments which appeal to every Democratic heart and arouse and organize the energies of every American citizen. The stringency of the Democratic organization may restrain many from an open expression of their intentions but we believe that the 13th of October will show such a record as will astound those who still think that they can drive the masses like dumb cattle to support what is known as the regular Democratic ticket. When such citizens as N. B. BROWN, postmaster of Philadelphia under Mr. BUCHANAN; DANIEL DOUGHERTY, BENJAMIN H. BRESTER; JOHN C. KNOX, Attorney General under Governor WM. F. PACKER; WILLIAM M. HAISTER, of Berks, Secretary of the Commonwealth under the same Executive; HON. WILLIAM WILKINS, HON. J. C. SHANNON, and R. BIDDLE ROBERTS, of Allegheny; HON. THOMAS CUNNINGHAM, of Beaver; H. R. THOMAS and E. W. MOORE, of Montgomery; CHAMBERS and REYNOLDS, of Lancaster; and CHAS. SHRIVER, of Snyder break loose from the Democratic organization, it is easy to see how men, not so well known in politics will come forth on the day of election, and show their devotion to the country.—Press.

IMMENSE UNION PROCESSION.—At a Union meeting held in Belmont, Ohio, on the 19th inst., the procession was nine and a half miles long. At the least calculation it contained 13,000 persons, and was four hours in passing a given point. There were fifteen hundred and seventy-five vehicles, and five hundred and fifty-five ladies and gentlemen on horseback.

THE MAINE ELECTION.—The Portland Advertiser, a copperhead sheet, has discovered the reason why its party was defeated in Maine. It was because "patriotic men had the idea that a vote in condemnation of the Administration would be a vote of encouragement to the rebels," and that it would be safer to overlook even its mistakes than to do anything calculated to weaken or embarrass it. The logic thus attributed by the Advertiser to the people of Maine is not far out of the way.

Some tell us that it will cost a vast deal of money to preserve our nationality. They are wretches who appeal to considerations so mean and sordid. What would you think of a fellow who should remind you in your sickness that it would be very expensive to save your life? And is the life of the mightiest republic of all time to be more higgled about than the life of an individual?

"All that a man has he will give for his life." All that all men have they should give for their country's life.

A West Point letter says: General Scott enjoys excellent health, considering his years. He is the earliest riser in the house and first at the breakfast table. After breakfasting, at seven o'clock, he proceeds to the library, where he is daily engaged in preparing his autobiography for the world's history.

Brigadier General Robert Anderson, United States army, has been before the army retiring board, and it is expected that he will be retired from active service, as, since the bombardment of Fort Sumter, in 1861, he has not been equal to the fatigue and excitement incidental to service in the field.

EPISCOPAL GEBERTHON ON THE DIVINITY OF SLAVERY.—The following declaration is signed by almost every Episcopal clergyman in Philadelphia, headed by Bishop Potter himself:

"This attempt not only to apologize for slavery in the abstract, but to advocate it as it exists in the Cotton States, and in States which sell men and women in the open market as their staple product, is in their judgment unworthy of any servant of Jesus Christ. An effort to sustain, on Bible principles, the States in rebellion against the Government, in the wicked attempt to establish by force of arms a tyranny under the name of Republic, whose cornerstone shall be perpetual bondage of the African, it challenges their indignant reprobation."

Jeff Davis has ordered the release of all criminals in State prisons, provided they join the Confederate army. If they acquiesce it will add 8,000 to their ranks of the very worst description of cut-throats and outcasts.

HOMEWARD BOUND.—Some six carloads of contraband soldiers passed through Harrisburg on Friday night, en route for their homes. One of them informed us that all soldiers in the Washington hospitals, who were fit for active service, had been sent to their regiments, and those who were unable to perform military duty received furloughs. This is an act of justice, on the part of the authorities, as it will enable these noble soldiers to visit their homes, and at the same time exercise their right to vote—a right of which Judge Woodward would deprive them if possible.

Accident to Rebel Prisoners.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—A special dispatch to the Commercial, from Nashville, says about three hundred rebel prisoners confined in an extensive unfinished hotel, known as the Maxwell House, were precipitated from the fifth story, through a gangway fitted up with temporary stairs, to the second floor.

The prisoners made a simultaneous rush to breakfast. The stairs gave way under the unusual weight. Two men were taken out of the ruins dead and two have since died of their injuries.

Ninety-six others are injured. Some of them have both legs and arms broken—others are more seriously mangled.

Railroad Accident and Loss of Life.
CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Some drunken rowdies last night detached a portion of a train on the railroad between Kalamazoo and Lawton, by pulling out the connecting pin. The consequence was that when the front part of the train reached Lawton, the detached car came thundering down upon them on a down grade. A frightful collision ensued. Five persons were killed and twenty-two wounded. Many of the latter are so seriously injured that they cannot survive.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF PENNSYLVANIA.
On Monday evening last, a special meeting of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, was held in the Athenaeum Building, Philadelphia, for the purpose of hearing an address from D. McConaughy, Esq., of Gettysburg, in explanation of the object of the "Battle-Field Memorial Association of the United States."

After a number of presentations by individuals of relics, amongst which was a photograph copy of the Gettysburg battle-field which had been drafted by the rebel Maj. Gen. Trimble, and other relics from the field, by Mr. Wrigley, of Norristown, and also an interesting communication from that gentleman, describing the battle-field of Gettysburg minutely—

Mr. David McConaughy was introduced to the Society, and proceeded to give an interesting and detailed account of the topography of the Gettysburg battle-field, of which he exhibited a pen and ink diagram or chart which he had prepared.

Mr. McConaughy said that the natural landmarks of this battle-field were more remarkable than those of Waterloo, and in addition to this, could be easily and cheaply preserved for posterity's gaze. Here no less than 180,000 Americans had met in mortal conflict; 10,000 were left dead, or to die upon the field, and from 25,000 to 30,000 were wounded. It is the battle-field of Pennsylvania—the battle-field of the free North—the speaker hoped it might prove the battle-field of the war!

In view of this, every effort should be made to secure this ground, and preserve it as an heirloom to the State and Nation. This effort must be made now, and the speaker came to enlist the attention of this time-honored society to this excellent object. The stone walls on Granite Spur, which the rebels could not take, were built in one night by our Pennsylvania troops entirely. They should be secured and preserved just as they are, a granite monument to the valor, skill and industry of Pennsylvanians.

Mr. M. stated that an association had been formed at Gettysburg for monumental purposes, who would issue stock when incorporated by the Legislature. Each share would have a minimum value of $10, with privilege to purchase shares of $100 if desirable. Authority would be obtained to obtain and hold the real estate and other property by deed in fee simple, and some of the extensive fields might be held by a sort of perpetual lease; $5,000 would place the association in possession of this battle-field. A general committee would be appointed to confer with local committees in every town, and trustees would be elected who could meet at Gettysburg and elect a committee of general management.

William Duane, Esq., offered a series of resolutions, to the effect that the Historical Society should at once take an interest in this great patriotic enterprise, and that a committee of five members be appointed to arrange matters in connection therewith, and confer with the Executive Committee of Gettysburg Association. Adopted.

Mr. Solomon Roberts hoped that this committee would have a suitable chart of the battle ground prepared for the society. Dr. Gilbert proceeded to address the society at some length, and after detailing many new facts in connection with this memorable battle-field, remarked that 1,100 soldiers from South Carolina encamped on this ground, on their way to the lakes, in 1813, and that no doubt many of their descendants now live buried there. On Thursday, the 23 of July, General Lee advanced under the immunity of a hospital flag, and made a reconnaissance of our position on Cemetery Hill. This fact is incontestable.

The thanks of the society were tendered to Mr. McConaughy and others Adjourned.

National Cemetery at Gettysburg.
Under the direction of the Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. Wm. Saunders, chief of the Government propagating garden, is at present in Gettysburg to lay out the grounds for a national cemetery, where those who fell on the soil of Pennsylvania in defence of their country's cause are to have a cared-for resting place. Mr. Saunders is a resident of Germantown, and has been at the head of his profession in this country. Since the death of Downing no one has stood higher as a landscape gardener and horticulturist. The Cemetery will be publicly consecrated in November next.

Letter from Camp.
CAMP 1ST REGT. PA. RESERVES, }
New Culpeper, Va., Sept. 28th.

Dear Sentinel.—Thinking that a word from the Army would not be unacceptable to your many readers, we propose giving you some of the thoughts of your "Soldier boys." There is one wish that is uppermost in all our hearts, at the present. Do you ask what? It is that we were allowed the privilege of expressing our opinions at the polls on the 13th of October next.—That we are denied this privilege, we feel we owe to the man now in nomination by the "so called Democratic party," for the high and responsible position of the Executive chair, in our own native State.—We do not feel as though we could do justice to one so void of all feelings for the soldier, so utterly disregarding of the rights of those who are "the life-blood of the Republic," else we would be tempted to vent our sarcasm upon the Hon. Gentleman. It is well known by that party, acting in opposition to the Government, that the very best way of paralyzing the efforts of the present Administration, and electing to office both in the State and the nation Copperheads of the stamp of Woodward and Vallandigham, is to crush out the soldier's vote. But even this we hope will not avail.

We cannot but feel that there is patriotism enough still at home to give "Copperheadism" a crushing blow, and proclaim to the South, in future as in the past, that we are able to whip them at the ballot box, as well as in the field.

Fellow-citizens of Adams, can you go to the polls and vote in direct opposition to that which your sons and brothers are now fighting for? If so, vote for Judge Woodward. But if you would gladden the hearts of the soldiers and cheer us onward to victory, teach us by the record you will make on the coming election day, that you too are in earnest about saving our great and glorious Republic from destruction and disgrace. Vote for the nation and the soldier's friend, Andrew G. Curtin! Who more deserving of your suffrage? Has he not stood by you in times of direst trial? When Rebel hordes invaded our loved homes, it was Andrew G. Curtin's far-seeing eye that saved the Capital of the State, and his indefatigable exertions combined with the "Army of the Potomac," that drove the invader from your borders and brought to you again the inestimable boon of peace. But you say you are tired of war. So are we. But we believe, and know, that the only true road to peace is that of war. Until the Rebels shall have laid down their arms and accumbent to National authority, there can be no final and lasting peace.

Brothers at Home, will you not, by your voice at the ballot box, say to the world that you are for this lasting peace? Will you not cause us to rejoice as much by the victory you will obtain over Copperheads and traitors in October next, as we did by the victory of the National Army at Gettysburg, in July last? Yes, we know you will, we believe that the "Young Guard" will redeem herself from the hands of the rotten democracy and take her stand with all true democrats, for the preservation of our whole country, and its still nobler institutions. We feel assured that you will vote the whole Union ticket, elect it throughout, and thus strike a final blow to "Copperheadism" in good old Adams.

The old Buck wheat county, "with all her faults we love her still," and as true as that she will yet be a beacon light to guide others who have erred and strayed from the path of truth, back to their former prestige and glory. All honor to the sons of Adams! We know you love your country, and remember, with kindest your friends in the field. We know too, that at the mention of our many battle-fields, from those of the Peninsula to that at Gettysburg, you cannot but drop a tear in memory of our honored dead, and as truly do we believe that no conscientious man can vote in opposition to that Government, which these heroes died to sustain. Let us hear of Adams doing her work, and doing it nobly, saving Curtin and the whole ticket a majority of at least 500!

Let your watchword be Curtin! Curtin! Curtin! and the Re-establishment of the Union upon the eternal principles of human freedom.

Advices from Mobile state that another female bread riot had occurred there on the 4th inst. The 17th Alabama Regiment was ordered by Gen. Maury to put down the disturbance, but refused to do duty. The Mobile Cadets then tried their hands, but were defeated and forced to fly by the women. Powerful measures finally quieted the famine stricken wretches. The rioters openly proclaimed their determination, if some means was not speedily devised to relieve their sufferings or stop the war, to burn the whole city.

The paroled Vicksburg prisoners at Mobile are suffering the greatest hardships for want of care and food, and openly declare that if ever they are forced into the field they will leave on the first battle. It is supposed that of the 27,000 paroled at Vicksburg not more than 5,000 can ever be forced into the ranks again.

A STARTLING PROPOSITION.—In a recent speech in Ohio, the Hon. John Sherman presents the issue made in the nomination of Vallandigham in the following most forcible light:

"Here is a convicted traitor," he says, "nominated as the Democratic Governor of Ohio. He is opposed to the Government; opposed to the war; will not vote a man to suppress the rebellion, and will not vote a dollar to sustain our soldiers. And yet the Democratic party calls upon the people to elect this man Commander-in-Chief of our army and navy of Ohio—and this in the midst of war with the enemies of the country, whom he is convicted of aiding."

PRESERVE YOUR VOICE.—Colds injure the voice and lungs of course; try a few of Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers, 25 cents a box; cure a cough or sore throat in a very short time. Sold by all druggists.

From the army of the Cumberland we learn that the report that the Rebels extend within four miles of Chattanooga are false. The movements of the Rebels are looked as indicating a siege, but it is possible that when Rosecrans' reinforcements arrive—which are represented to be on the way to Chattanooga from different directions—his present defensive position will be changed to that of the offensive. The artillery lost in the recent battles is being rapidly replaced by new batteries from Nashville. There are rumors that the Rebels have also been reinforced. A letter received by the Louisville Journal from a high source at Chattanooga, dated on the 23d ult., speaks with confidence. The writer says: "It is now I think, settled that Gen. Rosecrans will hold his position in Chattanooga against all the combined forces of the Rebels brought from Charleston, Richmond, Mobile, &c. Our position is more than equal to all the force they can bring against this army. Three days have enabled Gen. Rosecrans to make his position immensely strong. Chattanooga has much more practical and natural advantages for defence from the south side than from the north, and, as the enemy cannot get in our rear, we are very strongly posted. Full confidence and great cheerfulness exist among the whole army. The enemy were so badly hurt that they have not been disposed to press forward. A letter from Cairo to the New York Tribune, written on the 23d ult. says: "It is contradictory, I believe, to tell us we know regarding the movement of troops at this point and Memphis, but let those who are anxious about the fate of Rosecrans may be assured that means will be given him to hold Chattanooga in spite of all that the enemies of the Government can do."

Notice to Fruit Growers.

THE subscriber gives notice to all persons wishing to plant fruit trees, the coming season, that he has at his establishment (Plainfield Nurseries, near the York Sulphur Springs, Adams County, Pa.) about 6,000

APPLE TREES, of four years growth, and about 100 of the number of five and six years growth, all very thrifty and in good health, which he will retail at 10 cents each, or less, if the number is less than 300, or wholesale to persons wishing to plant at 8 cents per tree, if they take 300 or upwards.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA COMPANY,

51 Vesey Street, New York.

SINCE its organization, has created a new era in the history of wholesaling Teas in this Country. They have introduced their selections of Teas, and are selling them at not over two cents (.02 cents) per pound cost, never derating from the one price asked. Another peculiarity of the Company is that their Teas faster not only delects his taste to the selection of their Teas as to quality, value, and particular styles for particular localities of country, but he helps the Tea buyer to choose out of their enormous stock such Teas as are best adapted to his particular wants, and not just this, but points out to him the best bargains.

It is easy to see the incalculable advantage a Tea buyer has in this establishment over all others.

If he is no judge of Tea or Market—if his time is valuable—let him send for a sample of our system of doing business, of an immense capital, of the judgment of a professional Tea Taster, and the knowledge of superior salesmen.

This enables all Tea buyers—no matter if they are thousands of miles from this market—to purchase on as good terms here as the New York merchants.

Parties can order Teas and will be served by us as well as though they came themselves, being sure to get original packages, true weight and tares; and the Teas are warranted as represented.

We issue a Price List of the Company's Teas, which will be sent to all who order it, comprising Hyson, Young Hyson, Imperial Gunpowder, Twankay and Skin, Oolong, Soucheong, Orange and Hyson Pekoe, Japan Tea of every description, colored and uncolored.

This list has each kind of Tea divided into four classes, namely: Choice, High Grade, Fine, and Standard; and every one may understand from description and the prices annexed that the Company are determined to undersell the whole Tea trade.

We guarantee to sell all our Teas at not over TWO CENTS (.02 cents) per pound above cost, believing this to be attractive to the many who have heretofore been paying enormous profits.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER

"A child can readily wring out a tubful of clothes in a few minutes. It is in reality a Clothes saver! a time saver! and a strength saver! The saving of garments will alone pay a large per centage on its cost. We think the machine much more than pays for itself every year in the saving of garments! There are several kinds, nearly alike in general construction, but we consider it important that the Wringer be fitted with Cogs, otherwise a mass of garments may clog the rollers, and the rollers upon the crank-shaft will tear the clothes, or the rubber band loose from the shaft. Our own is as new after nearly four years' constant use."

No. 1 Wringer with cog wheels is warranted in every particular. No Wringer can be durable without cog wheels.

A good CANYASSEL wanted in every town.

On receipt of the price from places where no one is selling, we will send the Wringer free of express.
